

QFires PT-100

- JTAC training in a portable solution
- Train in a classroom, barracks, or hotel room
- Comprised of two stations, Instructor/ Role Player and Student Station
- Scalable to include more students
- Setup in less than 10 minutes
- Packaged in commercial airline checkable convenient travel cases
- Utilizes proven software and technology currently deployed on the USAF accredited Joint Terminal Control Training and Rehearsal System (JTC TRS)

Student Station

- Integrated projector or external display
- First person view of the battlefield
- QFires ROVER
- Simulated DAGR
- Simulated Radios
- Emulated Military Equipment
 - Mil-reticle Binocs
 - PLRF
 - LTLM
 - LTD
 - IZLID
 - DACAS

Instructor / Role Player

- Ability to control scenario and act as a role player
- Dynamically modify the scenario
- Develop new scenarios to complete more complex training requirements
- Include fixed-wing, rotary-wing, and surface-based fire systems
- Act as a pilot controlling aircraft during the mission
- Control a targeting pod requiring the student to perform real time talk on targets
- Utilize integrated radios to create an immersed training experience

PROVEN

RELIABLE

INTEROPERABLE

SCALABLE

MODULAR

About QuantaDyn Corporation

QuantaDyn supplies simulation and training systems to the U.S. military and coalition partners around the world. Our goal is to provide modern, innovative answers to training needs, while taking full advantage of commercial-off-the-shelf (COTS) technology. Our experience includes virtually all phases of training device development for Joint Fires as well as both fixed and rotary wing aircraft for use on military and commercial programs.